

KEYES VICTIM OF FORGERIES

Woman Gets $455 from Prosecutor's Account

Familiarity With Affairs of Attorney Shown

Checks Deposited Against Him Total $11,000

Prosecution of criminals in Los Angeles county became a personal matter with Dist. Atty. Keyes yesterday, when it was revealed by Pasadena and Beverly Hills bank officials that a woman had forged four checks against the prosecutor's bank account totaling more than $11,000. Only $455 was obtained by the woman before the forgery was discovered, it was announced.

As a result, last night investigators for the District Attorney and Pasadena police were tracing a down-curve in an effort to establish the identity of the woman and effect her arrest, while Dist. Atty. Keyes was reported out of the city for the remainder of the week.

According to Wayne Jordan, assistant chief deputy district attorney, and Frank R. a prosecutor in the preliminary department, who are in charge of the investigation, the woman gave her residence as 470 South Rodeo Drive, Beverly Hills, Keyes' residence, and allowed the checks as payments on the purchase of the home, which Keyes acquired six months ago.

ADDRESS CHANGED
The first check made out for $250 and drawn on the First National Bank of Beverly Hills, was deposited at the Oak Knoll branch of the First National Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles September 23, 1928. It was dated September 23, 1928, and was indorsed by Mrs. Wanda Hudson, who gave her address as 714 Lake street, Pasadena. This address was later changed to 470 South Rodeo Drive, Beverly Hills.

The next day the woman appeared at the bank again and drew $450 from the account, according to the statement of H. D. Wallace, assistant manager, saying that she wished to purchase an automobile. A few days later the same woman deposited a check for $250 in the Pasadena branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank opening an account. The bankers sent the check through to the First National Bank of Beverly Hills and it was returned marked "no account."

Becoming suspicious officers of the bank called for an investigation by the Pasadena Police Department and Leon Schulz was assigned to the case. A conference with of-

THERE is not an unusually heavy attendance at the polls in November, it will not be the fault of the Register and Vote League, with headquarters in the Alexandria, yesterday workers of the league went to the length of bringing the facilities for registering right to people's doorsteps. At 9 a.m. they began a full day's tour, a callous advance agent and a truck fastened on behind containing a bevy of beauties from a local revue to lure the negligent citizen. To make sure of a bird in the hand, two deputies also were on the truck with a table, sharpened pencils, maps and all the necessary registration materials. League members hope this tour through the city will inspire many procrastinating citizens to rush to the nearest registration stand and get themselves on record as properly qualified voters before the registrations close tomorrow night.

COTTON PICKERS ARE NEEDED

Record Crop and High Pay Below Last Good Chance for Mexicans

Lower California cotton growers are looking for unemployed Mexicans from Los Angeles or elsewhere, to help gather their record cotton crop. Pickers are scarce on the Mexican side and planters are offering 4 pesos a kilo to them, enabling reasonably nimble ones to earn from $4 to $8 a day. Payment on a piece scale makes possible a good income for a family in which are several persons old enough to work in the field. Only physically fit and industrious workers are wanted. They are advised to go to Mexicali through Calexico. The planters are bidding especially for Mexicans in Los Angeles, where some unemployment exists among members of their race.

HARDY'S MOVE FOR WRIT LOST

Court from punishing Judge Hardy for contempt should it attempt to do so.

JURISDICTION DENIED
The briefs submitted by Judge Hardy's attorneys yesterday held that the State Bar legally lacks jurisdiction to investigate any judge. As a further reason for denial of jurisdiction, it was urged that no complaint ever has been filed against the judge, the check was accepted before the State Bar was organized, there was nothing wrong, legally or ethically, in Judge Hardy taking the money and the State laws give a jurist the right to practice law outside of court, so long as he does not practice in any court or act in an advisory capacity in any case in which he sits as judge.

In reply the bar examiners' brief urged that the committee has jurisdiction to conduct the investigation and the only point before the court was whether a judge can be compelled to testify as a witness. With respect to the latter question, the brief held, even if no law making judges exempt from being called as witnesses and punished for contempt if they refuse to testify, unless their refusal is based on constitutional grounds.

In reply to the contention that a judge may practice law outside of court, the examiners' brief said:

DANGERS SEEN
"Public policy requires that a judicial officer shall not give advice or counsel, while in office, in order that he may not be disqualified from hearing and determining the causes of all litigants that may come before him. Should public policy not require that all judicial officers in the State might, by giving advice and counsel, disqualify themselves from hearing and determining a particular cause, with the result that the litigants would be deprived of justice."

"It is the function of a judicial officer to hear and determine causes and not practice law outside of court. One may well imagine the result if it were a general practice. The judicial department of the State would in time cease to function entirely by virtue of self-disqualification."

"For a judge to disqualify himself from adjudging a cause by having given advice to either of the parties thereto is not only to repudiate his official duty to hear and determine such cause as a judge, but is an invasion of the right of both sides to have the cause tried and determined by such a judge."

"Express inhibitory legislation on the subject of judges practicing law during the term for which they are elected would seem to be superfluous by such a judge."

Board Specifies Old Road Site in Resolution

Another resolution to the City Council to correct one which might have given beach property owners more land than necessary to settle their claims in exchange for right of way for the State highway along the ocean shore west of Santa Monica, was passed by the Playground and Recreation Commission yesterday.

The first resolution recommended a blanket ordinance to give the old Malibu Road site to the owners who had given land for the State highway. Later it developed there had been more than one old road, due to the changes in the surf-swept shoreline, which enabled the owners to select the old site which would give them the larger amount of beach land.

The new recommendation asks that an ordinance be passed specifying that the site of the old Road is the one to be received by the owners for the right of way given for the highway.

MINE DESCRIBED AS WORTHLESS

Expert Testifies at Trial of Wicksham

Mrs. Neumann Corroborates Daughter's Evidence

Wicksham Describes Deal in Hospital Room

Testimony that a gold mine said to have been promoted by Sam Wicksham was not capable of producing ore in commercial quantities was given yesterday in Judge Wicksham's court, where Wicksham was tried on three counts of conspiracy to defraud the public by selling worthless shares in the Big Tule mine, located in the Big Tule Canyon, to obtain samples of the ore.

The samples, it was said, were turned over to A. R. Payne for testing.

LOW VALUE ORE

Payne stated the ore showed no signs of value and only sparse quantities of gold which would assay for 10 to 15 cents a ton. The witness declared it would cost approximately $4 a ton to get the ore out of the canyon, this price not including the cost of milling.

Mrs. Neumann, an aged widow, corroborated the testimony given yesterday by Mrs. Pay, her daughter, who declared Wicksham induced her to sign over to him $40,000 worth of stock in the Webster Mining Company and a $10,000 check.

Wicksham was at the bedside of the daughter in a local hospital.

Wicksham, a notary, testified Wicksham summoned her to the hospital to witness the assignment of the stock and trust deed. According to Mrs. Neumann, Mrs. Neumann kept repeating: "I don't want to sign this" and the witness said she finally left without accepting the transfer. Wicksham is asserted to have summoned her some time later to the assignment.

Mrs. Neumann placed a pen in her hand and kept insisting that she sign the paper until she no longer needed his coerced demands.

Wicksham, according to reports at the Sheriff's office.

Deputy Sheriff Richey and Burkhalter reported that Mrs. Emma Wicksham found her husband lying on the bathroom floor after she had broken down the locked door with the aid of neighbors.

SESE CANYON ROAD FAVORED

Three-County Inspection Report Submitted

Would Give New Highway to Bakersfield

Immense Value to County to be Realized

That the proposed Sespe Canyon route from Los Angeles to Bakersfield, via Lockwood Valley and San Emidio Canyon, is feasible and opportune and materially will benefit traffic conditions between the two cities are findings to be submitted for consideration of the County Regional Planning Commission today as the result of an inspection of the route made by officials representing Los Angeles, Ventura and Kern counties.

William J. Fox, chief engineer of the Los Angeles County Regional Planning Commission, who conducted the survey, in a summary regarding the trip says that "Such a highway to open this new and beautiful country, consisting of Sespe Canyon, Sespe Canyon Hot Springs, Matatu Flats, Lockwood Valley, Thorn Meadows, Cuddy Valley, San Emidio and Mill Potrero, has outstanding merit" and that he believes "it would benefit Los Angeles county to a tremendous degree, even though much of the road is beyond the county limits."

TOPOGRAPHY FAVORABLE

Mr. Fox further states that "The road, from an engineering standpoint, is entirely feasible and along 90 per cent of the way the topography and general conditions incident to mountain-road construction offer favorable possibilities; the remaining 10 per cent is through extremely rough, mountain country, but through which a highway of major importance could be built, observing the highest standards of mountain highway construction."

As regards financing it, Mr. Fox believes "this project should be gone into by all agencies and thoroughly diagnosed to see if a financial program cannot be devised whereby this glorious country may be opened so that the people of Southern California may have the opportunity to enjoy it and to do so conveniently."

HORSES UTILIZED

The inspection party started from Los Angeles on September 28 and some of the journey had to be made on horseback and with pack horses.

Those comprising the party in addition to Mr. Fox, were Harry McCray, Bakersfield, surveyor and engineer; C. F. Reeder, Fillmore, member of the highway committee of the California Development Association; R. O. Baldwin, member of the Los Angeles County Regional Planning Commission; J. E. Rockhold, Los Angeles County Surveyor; E. B. Mansur, representing Gordon Whittall, director of the Los Angeles City Planning Commission; R. L. Thomas, location engineer of the California State Highway Commission; Frank Pilon of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce publicity department; and C. E. Weary, assistant engineer, Los Angeles County Road Commissioner's office.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Short Tricks
Equal parts of ammonia and turpentine will remove indelible ink marks.
Keep a pint milk bottle in the kitchen cupboard as a bank for your stray nickels and dimes. You will be surprised to see how quickly they will become dollars.
Use odds and ends of silk thread when basting velvet. Then they will not leave holes in the material like cotton basting.

Safe From Burns
One woman who frequently burned herself in lifting puddings, pies, etc., from the oven, now uses a cheap dustpan as a lifter and claims it is a great help.

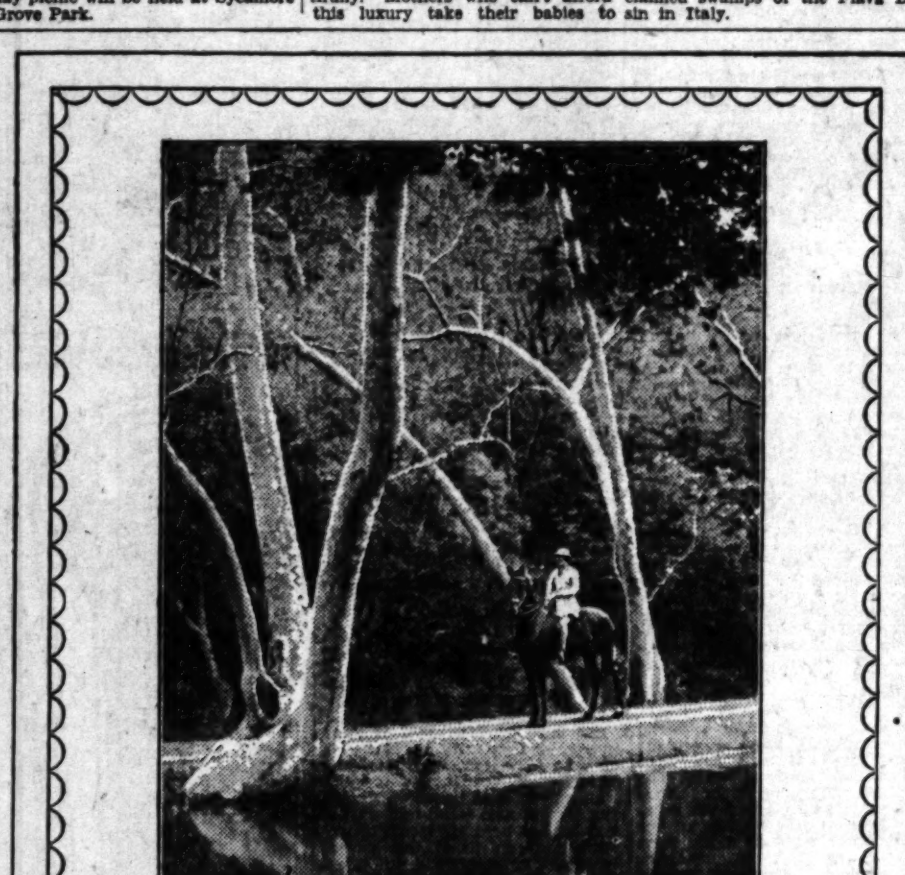

Extra Stuffing
When the family is very fond of filling in a fowl, try making an extra amount and putting it in a muslin bag, laying the filled bag alongside the fowl in the roaster. Baste it as well as the fowl.

Clearing Drrippings
When the drippings used for frying become brown add water and a pinch of bicarbonate of soda and put it in the oven to boil. When cool, pour off water and the drippings will be clear and white once again.

An Unpleasant Duty
A very greasy sink may be cleaned well and without loss of temper if dusted well with scouring powder and then sprinkled over with salt, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of rummer, half a teaspoonful of paprika, and the grated rind of half a lemon. Cut two pounds of lean boneless veal in two-inch cubes, place a layer of veal in the bottom of a buttered baking dish, cover with part of the parsley and egg mixture, cover with an equal amount of finely diced boiled mutton, fill the dish with alternate layers of veal, seasoning and ham, add one cupful of water, cover with a short biscuit dough, brush with milk and bake in a moderate oven one hour; cut a hole in the crust and pour in one and a half cupfuls of rich hot meat stock.

Not So Unpleasant
A few drops of household ammonia in the dish water when doing the pots and pans will not only help loosen the soil but will take away the unpleasant greasiness and odor while we are washing them.

The Bridle Paths of Bel-Air

By Jay Allen, President of the Bridle Path Association of California

In my horseback riding activities along the coast of California, I have enjoyed many bridle path rides over the different systems that call to the equestrian, and strange to say, until a few weeks ago, I had never ridden over the well developed area of Bel-Air trails. Like most of those who live close to such beauty spots, it is generally the newcomer and the tourist who enjoy them most. Therefore, it was with quite an anticipation of another enjoyable morning in the saddle that we motored through the wooded drives of Bel-Air to where the thoroughbreds are stabled.

Passing underneath the covered arches of the Administration Building, we galloped along the path skirting the horse show ring and soon were headed for the adjoining hills and canyons of Bel-Air. These hills are quite deceptive when viewed from the boulevards and can best be appreciated when seen from the vantage points we frequently passed in our ride. To be so close to the business area of Los Angeles and still have virgin country to ride in, was quite a revelation. One doesn't realize until they have seen the bridle paths of Bel-Air what an immense amount of work has been done to place them in such shape. Bordered on the off side with rustic fences and passing underneath motor roads through stone arches—great forethought has been given to the needs of the equestrian.

The plentiful growth of flowers along the hillside is a delight to the nature lover and is best seen from horseback. The many varieties of trees over the Bel-Air properties impress us—the sycamore, the holly, liveoak, black walnut, poplar, eucalyptus and others are profusely scattered all along the way.

Beyond doubt, no other community boasts of such saddle horses as are found in the Bel-Air stables and to a lover of horses, Bel-Air offers the ultimate, for its riding and its natural beauty and environment should satisfy the discriminating.

WOMAN HELD AS 'FAGIN' SUSPECT

Mother Accused of Teaching
Her Child to Steal

Arrest Follows Months of Police Surveillance

Merchandise Found in Home
Seized as Evidence

Accused of teaching her 8-year-old daughter to be a shoplifter, Mrs.
Mary Martell, 40 years of age, of 1161 South Union avenue, was booked at the City Jail last night on suspicion of burglary. The child was turned over to the juvenile authorities and $3000 worth of women's and children's wearing apparel and beaded bags, which police say was seized in the woman's home, is being held as evidence.

The arrest was made in a downtown department story by private detectives who told police they have been watching the mother and child for months.

Policewomen Ross and Lane, who took charge of the case, reported last night that when questioned the girl said her mother taught her to steal. The mother later confessed, the policewomen said.

The officers then went to the Martell home and found the goods asserted to have been taken by the girl under her mother's direction.
Another daughter, Rosemarie Martell, 19 years of age, and Louis Arce, 28 years of age, who were in the house at the time of the officers' visit, were taken into custody and held on suspicion of burglary, because, according to the police, they knew the goods were stolen but did not report it.

Husband Hurt in Mishap; Story of Tragedy Told at Coroner's Inquest

ELIZABETH, Oct. 4. (Exclusive).— A night of pain and horror for a 60-year-old man pinned beneath his overturned automobile, unable to obtain help and with his wife dead beside him, was revealed here today when Coroner Dickson conducted an inquest over the body of Mrs.
Cassie Pelet, 55 years of age.

Her husband, Eugene Pelet, seriously crushed and his body burned by gasoline which saturated his clothing, is in a critical condition at his home near Menifee, where the couple operated a ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Pelet were guests of friends for dinner last night.
While driving home about 8:30 p.m., their light truck struck a soft place in the road and went over a high embankment. Mrs. Pelet's head was crushed and she died instantly. Her husband, pinned down by the steering wheel, made frantic but vain efforts to free himself. His feeble cries for help were futile in the isolated spot.

Too weak to struggle longer but still conscious, Pelet was found early this morning by John J. Sullivan, a rancher near Ferris.

CALIFORNIA SCHOLAR TO BE HONORED

Writings of Josiah Royce Will be Collected and Placed in University

ALL the writings of Josiah Royce, California's renowned scholar and philosopher, are to be assembled in a collection that will constitute a memorial to Royce when the new University of California at Los Angeles is dedicated. To perpetuate further the name of Royce, the auditorium and classroom building at Westwood has been officially named Royce Hall and it is in a corridor of this building that Royce's works will repose in a specially prepared niche.

A pilgrimage that extended from the Pacific to the Atlantic Coast, was recently completed by Dr. Hugh Miller of U.C.L.A. to procure copies of all the published and unpublished works of Royce extant. Many of these volumes are rare, but copies were obtained from various sources including libraries of relatives and admirers of the scholar.

Royce was a native Californian and has been rated by Dr. Ernest C.
Moore of U.C.L.A. as one of the State's four greatest men. After graduating from the University of California at Berkeley, he went to Harvard. As a member of the faculty there he won world-wide admiration for his originality of thought on questions of history, religion, philosophy, psychology and other subjects.

Students cards have been sold on U.C.L.A., or four out of every five students, have subscribed so far,

Full Churches Predicted for Loyalty Drive

Predictions that most of the 260 churches participating in the Southern California Church Loyalty Crusade will have to hang out
"S.R.O." signs Sunday, the 14th inst., and following Sundays during the eight weeks' campaign, were made last night by speakers at a gathering of ministers and leading laymen of the metropolitan area in Pasadena Presbyterian Church. It was one of a series of preliminary meetings being held this week and next, and was addressed by Rev.
George O. Dowey, crusade director, and leaders of the four denominations uniting in the effort, Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist and United Presbyterian.

"This is the first time in history that four great denominations have united for such a practical effort to increase regular church attendance," declared Mr. Dowey. "Yet the problem of the empty pews is a common one with most of the churches."

The first mass meeting, to be held Sunday afternoon, the 14th inst., in the Bible Institute auditorium, will be the first real test of whether the Protestant religion holds a vital message for the men of Southern California, added Mr. Dowey. It will be followed by a similar gathering a week later in the Philharmonic Auditorium, and then for eight Sundays in the whole of the participating churches in Southern California.

There Ponce pointed out to them a man who when arrested gave his name as Sam Rodgers and his age as 62. He not only asserted he was not Martinez but added he was not even a Mexican but an Indian who had come here from Oklahoma. He is being held, however, on a charge of suspicion of murder, while an investigation is being made. The police have wired to Deming for confirmation of Ponce's story and a description of his sister's murderer. Meanwhile, Ponce assured the police he had become positive of his identification of the asserted slayer because of a scar on his left cheek and a slight deformity of his left hand.

Several Hundred Attend
Dinner Starting Campaign for Loyola Institution

Although the actual solicitation of funds will begin next Monday, the campaign to raise $400,000 for the construction of Loyola University was officially launched last night at a civic dinner presided over by Louis W. Myers, former chief justice of the Supreme Court of California and general chairman of the campaign. Several hundred persons attended the dinner, which was held at the Elmer Cafe, 633 South Flower street.

The speakers included Rabbi Edgar F. Maguin, who spoke on "Religious Tolerance." Father
Joseph A. Sullivan, S. J., president of Loyola, who told how the Jesuit fathers are trained and pointed out that they take vows to dedicate their lives to the education and guidance of youth, and Dr. Ernest C. Moore, director of the University of California at Los Angeles, who asserted that more universities can find room before this city takes its hoped-for place as the educational center of America.

The dinner also was an event in the celebration of University Day, which was proclaimed by Mayor Cryer and the Council, when they officially endorsed the drive to raise the fund for the construction of the new university, which, although Catholic in inception, will bar students of no creed or race.

Miss Constance Marshall, daughter of Chief Justice C. T. Marshall of the Ohio Supreme Court, gave up her work in New York City to go home and act as her father's campaign manager in his race for the Republican nomination for Senator.

SUSPECTED MURDERER IN CUSTODY

Brother of Slain Woman Identifies Asserted Killer
After Twenty-five Years

Twenty-five years ago in Deming, N. M., a Mexican laborer named Carlos Martinez shot and killed a girl named Otaviana Ponce because she refused to marry him.
The murderer escaped into Mexico, but the girl's brother, Francisco, made a vow to track him down if his quest took him to the end of the earth.

Last night Francisco Ponce, who is living in a hotel on Commercial street, was walking along that street near Main street when he told the police, he heard the voice of a man raised in argument with him, despite the lapse of years, he was sure was the voice of his sister's slayer. He called up a police station, told his story and Detective Lieutenants Buxton and Emery met Ponce and accompanied him to the corner where he said he had heard the voice of the asserted murderer.

There Ponce pointed out to them
a man who when arrested gave his
name as Sam Rodgers and his age
as 62. He not only asserted he was not Martinez but added he was
not even a Mexican but an Indian
who had come here from Okla-

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED
BY OPTOMETRY GROUP

At the regular monthly business meeting last night of the Los An-etrists at the Windsor Tea Room, a resolution was adopted expressing the regret of the association at the loss of Dr. E. D. Grandmaison, who was accidentally shot and killed reof the resolution will be sent to his widow, Dr. L. M. Grandmaison. The winter program of the Academy of Optometric Science under the direction of Dr. Harry Beucher was was also addressed by Dr. A.

Hutchinson, director of the course the University of Southern Califor-

HIGH LIGHTS IN HISTORY 1151

IN SPITE OF THE ATTEMPTS OF THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT TO GUARD THE PLANS OF THE ENGLISH TEXTILE MACHINES AND SO HOLD THE MONOPOLY OF THAT INDUSTRY, THE INFORMATION SHE BOUGHT TO KEEP SECRET WAS CARRIED TO AMERICA. IN 1789 A MAN NAMED SAMUEL SLATER, WHO HAD ACQUIRED A THOROUGH KNOWLEDGE OF THE ENGLISH COTTON SPINNING MACHINERY, SECRETLY BOARDED A SHIP BOUND FOR NEW YORK.

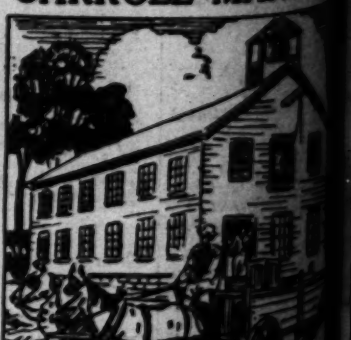

SLATER THEN ONLY TWENTY-ONE YEARS OLD, KNEW THAT A FORTUNE AWAITED THE MAN WHO WOULD INTRODUCE THE NEW MACHINERY INTO THE UNITED STATES. NOT LONG AFTER HE ARRIVED IN THIS COUNTRY, HE FOUND A FINANCIAL BACKER IN MOSES BROWN, A WEALTHY NEW ENGLAND QUAKER, MERCHANT AND PHILANTHROPIST.

The Story of American Industry. Slater's Enterprise in New England.

by J. CARROLL MANSFORD

IN 1790 SLATER OPENED A FACTORY IN PAWTUCKET, RHODE ISLAND. HE HAD COME TO AMERICA WITHOUT PLANS OF THE ENGLISH MACHINES, BUT HE ACCOMPLISHED THE REMARKABLE FEAT OF DUPLICATING ARKWRIGHT'S SPINNERS AND CARDERS FROM MEMORY.

SLATER'S SPINNING MILL WAS A REVOLUTION FROM THE START. SLATER ESTABLISHED AT OTHER PLACES IN NEW ENGLAND. IN 1812, FOUNDED THE MILL TOWN OF MASSACHUSETTS. THE YARN SPUN IN THE MILLS WAS WOVEN INTO CLOTH ON HAND LOOMS.
